As a solo traveler, this was probably the best activity for me in Boracay. It was sooo good I had to join the Pubcrawl the following day. The team captains were great at keeping the crowd together. Expect a long night of meeting new people from all cultures, drinking the night away, and dancing with strangers-turned-friends! Free drinks are awesome, and the special deals exclusive to pubcrawlers were better (buy 1 take 1 drink!). Gonna do this again when I come back in June.

Me and my wife traveled to Boracay and on the first night seen this group walking down the beach. We decided it would be good to join them at one point during our stay. I'm so glad we did, we met friends on this crawl from all over the world. People who will always be welcome to Edinburgh. Yasser, fav, ellena and David you all made our holiday. For your money I think it was around 750 peso you got a t-shirt, shot glass, wrist band and free shots at the bars. The boy taking us was great fun and they really get you mixing with everyone. Im 31 years old and loved it. There were also folk older than me there so don't let age stop you enjoying yourself. Also there was plenty folk on the crawl who were there alone so don't be shy!!!
Thanks for a great night guys.

It was so much fun. It was actually my first time to go barhopping... alone! The meeting place is in GT Hotel, where I was staying and that made me happier. Just got lucky!! We went to Gypsy Shack, Wave, Epic and Club Paraw. Boracay Pubcrawl literally and figuratively spoke and delivered. Shoutout to the Captains - Nate, Jayson, Riza and Kelly. You guys are awesome!! To the people I got to meet and talk to, it was beyond nice meeting you. Especially to these three - Ari the Leon, the Duo - Jang and Lee who became my dancing and drinking buddies. We even eat out after partying, hahahaha. I highly recommend it to anyone, may you be a solo traveler or in a group, shy or not. It is worth your stay.
