7 bathrooms

Description

Serenity, space and calm spring to mind when describing this impeccably styled home, with salt water infinity pool in the wooded hills near Cala Jondal. Think sea views, indoor and outdoor lounging in several comfortable living spaces, a sleek wooden kitchen with the smoothest of overtones and full housekeeping including breakfast for a truly relaxing stay.

Bedrooms & bathrooms

Uncomplicated bedrooms make sleeping a pleasure, with luxury white linen, chic designer furniture, stone floors and a good sense of space. All bedrooms have ensuite bathrooms, with classic white tiles that simply never date and the feeling that you've walked into a magazine shoot.

Interior

Villa Vita displays a subtle and delicate blend of superior finishing, divine textures, the highest quality fixtures and fittings and deliciously simple design. Exquisite stone floors roll out from the house and onto the terrace and pool while a gentle colour palette encompasses every possible shade of grey. A custom designed lighting system illuminates biscuit like neutrals and the odd flash of black leather or a smoky chandelier, creating a thoroughly therapeutic sense of peace and relaxation. This smooth contemporary space is clutter free yet full of charm, effortlessly mixing the perfect quantities of modern versus antique, with ancient busts, shimmering lights and beautiful Buddhas.

Outdoors

The stone flagged infinity pool is set with loungers with a raised terrace by the house for extra lounging. The idyllic gardens are a delight to explore, with paths and trails leading to quiet corners amidst the tangle of surrounding greenery that gives the place a magical air. Softly curtained day beds allow for utter relaxation; just take a walk down the terraces to find your private spot. Potted trees meet sculptures in the interior open-air courtyard where a sluice of water connects you further with the elements and a sleek bridge connects you to the rest of the house. Dive onto beanbags on the terraces, sink into huge sofas, or relax in the outdoor lounge under the shade of an awning. It's the perfect place to entertain outdoors with a fully equipped outdoor kitchen.
